REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA OPENS.

The 1922 Redpath Chautauqua opened in Paris Wednesday afternoon with a splendid concert by the Collegian Male Quartet, composed of Messrs. Spring, Risser, Strahan and Short. These young men proved themselves to be excellent vocalists and delighted their hearers with a fine selection of musical numbers. In the evening they gave a prelude to the lecture by former Governor Charles H. Brough, of Arkansas, on the subject, "America's Leadership of The World." Gov. Brough, who served as War Governor of Arkansas from 1917 to 1921, and who has been re-elected for the fourth time as president of the United States Good Roads Association, gave a scholarly and eloquent review of the achievements of the United States in practically every field of human endeavor.

Yesterday's program included the Montague Light Opera Singers in concert in the afternoon, and prelude at night. The evening address was given by Dr. Hubert W. Hurt, whose subject was "The New Industrial Day."
